

needed; school times.

Have you ever wished that school started at a later time? Well I have, I have always wished school started at a later time. Schools that start at 7:30 is too early for students. It's a known fact that students who wake up after 8:30 function easier and more likely to be happy. In my opinion, school should start at 9:00 am and end around 3:00 or 3:30 pm, which is actually fair because we usually start at 7:30 am and leave around 2:30 pm. Students will be more productive and will have their breakfast because they will have time if they want to eat before school. You have to wake up earlier than you usually do if times do not change.

My solution is to try and make my school, Bell Senior High School, see that starting at an early time is not a good idea. I'm sure if students started at a later time, it will change their attendance. This will improve grades also. The school makes money based on how many students they have. Each student maybe around $1000. If school was to start at a later time and it will even show that our school has a great future for students because they are learning more and not missing the lesson.

According to the principal, he does not agree that school should start at a later time. But, I disagree with him. According to the attendance counselor, he agreed that students will come on time and will be able to concentrate.

In class better and they will stop being sleep deprived and will quit sleeping in class.

75% of students at bell senior high students will be so much happier. Student should start a petition to change school hours so we can start at a later time.
